16 April 1999 KOSOVO POLJE	... the territory and lines of communication, which they carry out in their deployment sectors. Part of the equipment /illegible/ was handed over to the 2nd mb. Activities of logistical units are aimed at repairing and relocating the RMR /war equipment and materiel/. Communication with units is difficult. We are working on repairing the damage caused by bombardment and establishing communication with all units. There were no losses in personnel. New soldiers were recruited into the units for the needs of the Čičavica operation. MB1- COMMANDER Colonel MLADEN ĆIRKOVIĆ	/signature illegible/		17 April 1999 KOSOVO POLJE	During the night the NATO Air Force did not target our units. Communications with subordinate units are conducted by switching on PTT numbers. We are communicating with the 2nd mb via channel 34. Units of the 2nd okb and the 1st okb are carrying out tasks in keeping with the decision of the Čičavica commander. In the course of combat operations our units suffered no losses in personnel or combat hardware. MUP units carried out coordinated action with our units and participated in the clearing up of the territory. The operation was partially completed by nightfall, combat operations will continue tomorrow. Other units are in their previous deployment sectors focusing on securing the territory and the lines of communication. We continued to fortify and deploy our units in keeping with the decision on defence. During the day /illegible/...	/signature illegible/	/stamp/
